

PARALEGAL, ASSOCIATE OF APPLIED SCIENCE

Program Information

What is a paralegal/legal assistant?

A paralegal, also called a legal assistant, is a person who is qualified by education, training, or work experience; who is employed or retained by a lawyer, law office, corporation, government agency, or other entity; and who performs specifically delegated substantive legal work for which a lawyer is responsible.

What does a paralegal do?

The lawyer delegates duties to the paralegal. These duties will depend on the individual's abilities, specialty, and/or employment. Generally, those duties will include one or more of the following categories:

- Perform legal research,
- Interview clients/witnesses and conduct investigations,
- Draft legal documents,
- Calendar and track deadlines,
- Provide litigation support,
- Assist at hearings and trials, and
- Use technology to perform tasks.

A paralegal may not provide legal services directly to the public unless specifically authorized by law.

Program Accreditation

The Associate of Applied Science (AAS) Paralegal program is approved by the American Bar Association (ABA):

Most of the entry-level job opportunities are with private law firms from one-attorney firms to large firms. The paralegal will usually specialize in one or two areas of law, but some in general practice will work in various areas.

Corporate law departments, government agencies, and other legal departments also provide jobs for our graduates.

Paralegals pursue careers in:

- Litigation,
- Personal Injury,
- Corporate Law,
- Criminal Law,
- Employee Benefits,

- Intellectual Property,
- Bankruptcy,
- Immigration Law,
- Family Law,
- Real Estate, and
- Many other areas of law.

Internship opportunities include work for paralegals in law firms, corporate business, government agencies, real estate, insurance, and non-profit organizations.

Information

The Paralegal curriculum at San Jacinto College is designed to provide students with the knowledge and skills required to work under the general direction of attorneys to assist them in the completion of legal tasks. The ABA-approved program provides knowledge and skills for employment in law firms, courts, utility companies, title companies, trusts and mortgage departments of banks, government agencies, industrial companies, and other legal departments. A paralegal may not provide legal services directly to the public unless specifically authorized by law.

Students enrolling into San Jacinto College programs with external learning experiences (i.e., clinical, practicum, externship, cooperative, etc.) will be required to comply with the immunization requirements and policies of the clinical/external learning sites to engage in all clinical/external learning experiences. Vaccination requirements at clinical/external learning sites are implemented pursuant to the independent authority of such facilities and are not mandated by San Jacinto College. Failure to meet the immunization requirements mandated by clinical/external learning sites may limit a student's ability to complete the program and/or may delay the student's graduation date. San Jacinto College does not process exemptions, and students should address potential vaccination exemptions directly with the clinical/external learning site.
